

Carolina Catholic Professionals

April 2018 Speaker

Jenna Lee Write Bio

An NFL Cheerleader, a Meteorologist, a TV host, and an entrepreneur walk into a bar. What do they have in common? They're all the professions of Jenna Lee Wright.

It's not easy to live as a Christian. There are many challenges and temptations to the life of a Christian no matter who you are or what you do. During her college years Jenna Lee fell away from her faith but eventually Christ pulled her back in. She now shares with us the challenges she's faced in this peppering of careers and how God doesn't text back or adhere to business hours.

Jenna Lee is a Christian, a wife, a mother of four children, and a business owner. She lives on Daniel Island and is on the Stewardship Council at her church, Saint Clare of Assisi Catholic Church. Together she and her husband host a monthly ministry, Third Thursday, and own a local payroll company, Charleston Payroll. Jenna Lee started the company in 2014 and has grown the business from nothing into a busy operation with hundreds of clients around the country.